

She calls my name

Wake up in the morning and listen to the sound
Feel the breeze on my arms

Remembering the day when you left me alone
I let you go too far from home

Flying through the land answering call from the town
Bound to finish way down

And she comes
And she smiles
And she calls my name
Do need another day
Do need another way
I love you anyway
Do you feel the same ?

And the day found me fending for my own
Not wanting to tie you down

I never gonna take your picture off the wall
Wanna cast my eyes on you

And she comes
And she smiles
And she calls my name
Do need another day
Do need another way
I love you anyway
Do you feel the same ?
Do you feel the same ?
Do you feel the same ?
Coz I'm in pain

Wake up in the night and just look all around still the breeze on my arms remembering the day when I kissed you downtown now you slide like the sound
