

Cracker

She met this man in a lovely place
Looking for someone
And she found out his strong wrong taste
To break all what is done

There's a silence in the fire

He says he wants a happy girl
A daughter of the sun
And in the same time he takes her world
To break it all down

There's a silence after fire
No more confusion all around

She says
Cracker you gotta go home
Just look all what you've done
Cracker you gotta go home
Turn around leave me alone
Cracker you gotta go home
Go back to see your mum
And cracker you gotta go home

She thought he was a mature man
He was just a little boy
And she found out he got no plan
Except to play with his toy

There's a silence after fire
No more confusions all around

She says
Cracker you gotta go home
Just look all what you've done
Cracker you gotta go home
Turn around leave me alone
Cracker you gotta go home
Go back to see your mum
And cracker you gotta go home

He says I'm so sorry babe
I was in a bad mood
With me life was so unfair
Don't look for another dude

There's a silence after fire
No more confusion all around
